Dear Mr Kijewski,

Thank you for your fax of 23 April.

We regret that we are unable to agree upon suitable standards of production for your book, SI Units, Conversion and Measurement Skills. However, we are glad that you are in agreement with us on this matter, and that you agree to a termination of the contract that exists between us. In response to the specific points you raise;

1. We agree to refund to you in full your author contribution of £3800. A cheque for this amount will follow shortly.
2. a. Please find enclosed the disks and letters of copyright.
b. Please accept this letter as a formal annulment of the contract that exists between us, effective immediately.
c. A cheque for all royalties owing to you will be dispatched by our Royalties Administrator, who is based in Northamptonshire. You will receive this shortly.

There are seven copies of your book remaining in stock, which I have asked our distributors to send to you. Please accept these with our compliments.

I await your written confirmation of receipt of all of the above, and hope that this course of action is satisfactory to you.

Yours sincerely,

SARAH HUGHES
Director of Publications
